

HOW TO CHOOSE CAR INSURANCE IN SPAIN

Choosing proper car insurance is key to finding a balance between having your car properly protected and not overpaying for an insurance you don't need.

The choice of an insurance depends on the car that you have, how much you want to invest on insuring it.

Here are some clues to help you choose the insurance that can suit you best.

Third Party Insurance

This is the minimum protection that is compulsory to have for your car by law to drive on Spanish roads.

Maybe your car is old and it is not worth it to pay for a complete insurance, or perhaps you don't use your car too much and only want to have enough to be properly covered in case of accident. A basic third-party insurance offers you the basic compulsory protection, so that it doesn't cost you much to be able to drive safely in your vehicle.

It covers:

- Compulsory Civil Liability
- Voluntary Civil Liability
- Personal Damages
- Legal Defence
- Managing Fines
- Travel Support

Extended Third Party

There is always a possibility of extending a third-party insurance by taking additional services that you are interested in having covered. If you are certain that comprehensive car insurance is too much for you, but think that a basic third-party insurance is not enough, this is the type of insurance that you need. You can add optional coverages depending on what you are interesting in protecting in particular.

With Caser Expat Insurance you can have this option, or directly take out Third-Party + Windscreens, the third-party insurance that also takes covers windscreen breakage.

Comprehensive Insurance

The most complete insurance might be the best option for new cars, cars under 5 years old, or simply, a car of which you want to take extra care! This is the best car insurance to be sure that your car, and those who travel in it, are perfectly safe at any time.

Car x Car

With Caser Expat Insurance, you can also take the Coche x Coche service, available in third-party insurance modalities.

In the case of a write-off, Caser Expat Insurance values your car at a 120% of its market value and will look for similar cars in the second-hand market. Only you choose which of the options you want, and Caser delivers the car to your home, for you to keep it in perpetuity. If you don't like any of the cars offered, you can choose to get 120% of the market value of your car.
